To Whom It May Concern.

For the past eight years, since my graduation from Oxford University, my career has moved from teaching foreign language and literature to that of a counsellor and breath-therapist. Four years ago I first came into contact with the teachings of Bhagwan Shree Rajneesh through his books, which I have studied widely ever since. His approach to life expanded my vision and understanding of intelligent literature, emphasizing the common Spirit that underlies all humanity. This inspired me to move into the field of therapy in which I was able to help others in a more direct way, always inspired by Bhagwan's great insights into human psychology. My work has led me to travel extensively, and I have thus seen the wide impact of Rajneeshism, both in Europe and U.S.A.

I am deeply grateful for His presence.

Yours,

Christopher Reeve, B.A. (Oxon).
