I am Peter Isler, 31, Swiss national, married, father of two children. Today I am co-owner of a law-firm with 8 employees, member of the board of various companies, president of the regional tenant's association. In 69/70, as exchange student of AFS-International at the James M. Bennett High School in Salisbury, Md., I graduated as the best of my class. Already during my law studies in Zürich and Geneva I published in law-reviews. After two years of post graduate studies in the Netherlands I promoted as doctor of law. Specialized in the field of working relations and corporate law I published the following two books: "Mitbestimmung und Unternehmungsrecht" 1980, and "Problemkreis Mitbestimmung" (will appear in the next months).

Since March 78 I'm disciple of Bhagwan Shree Rajneesh. More than 6 months I spent with him in Poona, India. His teachings affected my life and work deeply. He taught me to carry my responsibility joyfully and playfully. Without him my success wouldn't have been possible.

His message of freedom and love showed me what true religion is. In other words: Bhagwan helped me to hear what Christ really said. His deep understanding of what life is all about gives me not only the strength to carry on and master occurring difficulties, but also to take of for a new horizon.

I never quite understood why this outstanding religious teacher is not welcomed with open arms in the US that is famous world-wide for its political and religious freedom. His experiment with the commune in Oregon is a trendsetter in the striving of resolving the problems facing the world today and tomorrow. It is also highly recognized as such in the Swiss medias. I sincerely hope that the US administration will enable Bhagwan Shree Rajneesh to continue his work and bring it to a good end.
