I met my wife last year in New-York City in June and had never heard of Bhagwan Shree Rajneesh before. She happened to be a disciple and had known him in India two years before. As I was in love with her I wanted to know what "Rajneesh" and his philosophy was all about. It was so new... I was a little scared... and went to Rajneesh puram for a visit last July. It was really interesting. When we got married last August in New-York I still insisted to be married in a Catholic church. I did not matter for her

Later when I was listening to Bhagwan Shree Rajneesh's taped discourses and reading his books my mind changed. I started to understand the immense value of the experiment that was going on in the commune of Rajneesh puram.

I understood that this man was not only talking and writing of men's happiness, but that he wanted to prove as an experiment on a small scale that mankind could reach a higher level of consciousness and that it was precious for the United-States and for the whole world to allow this experiment to happen.

Last christmas we went back to Rajneeshpuram for two weeks vacation... and there suddenly it became clear... "I felt in my heart a deep longing to become a disciple of that man for whom an immense respect had grown in me. That man was showing the world a new way of living in harmony and love with respect of the individual and the freedom of everyone.

I became a sannyasin on december 30th and meditated with these new techniques every day.

When we went back in march it became so fascinating to see all what had changed... there was nothing more worthy for us to do in our life than to help this experiment go through and to live it.

What was the point in spending my life organising pharmaceutical developments if the root cause of the disease had a chance to be solved by a totally opposite way as been searched before!

Bhagwan says: "Make men happy and he will be healthy."

I can feel myself after a few months already much more relax and healthier ~~th~~ as before!

Please let this experiment go through in name of freedom, love and futur of mankind.

~~It to~~ Give it a chance to make mankind happy.
