To whom it may concern,

I have been a disciple of Bhagwan Shree Rajneesh since the 10th of October 1981. I do not need to hear Him lecture publicly to know that He is a Master Teacher of Religion.

Now, by His very silence He is truly being all that He has ever spoken about publicly. Instead of talking about it, He is 'being' it.

To be in His silence, to experience His silent presence brings me close to my own inner silence. This experience of being with my Master is a heart to heart communion. It is through such love, such connection that religious transformation is possible.

Bhagwan has repeatedly stated in the past that the ultimate phase of His work would be in silence. And it is under His loving silent guidance that all His disciples in the world worship and live.

Yours sincerely,

Ma Dharma Kavisha
